THE ORCHESTRA

The Uraba Children's and Youth Philharmonic Orchestra project seeks to provide musical training to kids and teens in the banana corridor of Uraba, Antioquia. Through music, the orchestra fosters cognitive, emotional, and social skills, promotes self-esteem, creativity, and a sense of belonging.

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

MUSIC TRAINING FOR LIFE

Musical initiation process: auditory development, musical appreciation, reading and writing, harmonies, music creation, and choral practice.

Orchestral training process: approach and technical development of the instruments.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Classes and practices focused on personal and social development: self-esteem, personal value, teamwork, citizenship, among others.

A School for Families: periodic meetings and workshops with parents and caregivers.

CORE PROGRAM PRINCIPLES

Active learning by doing

Participants play, sing, compose and learn from what they achieve themselves

Collaborative learning & practice

We encourage collaboration and bolster values such as responsibility, solidarity, and discipline

Inclusive and safe environments

We adapt to the needs of each participant and provide a safe learning environment

Reflection and feedback

We create a space for constructive feedback to bolster self-assessment and improvement

Cultural exchange and diversity

Integrating elements of symphonic music into the local music to revitalize tradition
